ATTEMPTED MURDER

At TPO, CW1 [REDACTED] was walking with EW [REDACTED] when they saw D. CW1 and D engaged in a verbal dispute. CW1 and EW then walked away. D went after them and fired 3 shots, hitting CW1 and CW2 [REDACTED] a by-stander. CW1 was shot on the lower left back (bullet lodged in his back) and CW2 was shot on the upper right arm (bullet went in and out). CW1 and EW then walked towards the subway. 911 caller saw CW1 bleeding and called 911. D fled from the scene and ran through the backyards of a couple of houses, lost his jacket behind a private house, and is stopped and detained nearby. Apprehending officers saw D who fit the description that was put over. D's jacket, which contained a metro card that had D's name written on it, is found by other officers who contact the apprehending officers. D is then taken in for questioning where he makes a written admission.

Both CWs were treated and released at a local Bronx hospital.

No ballistic evidence recovered.

his passion and his persistence to do something that he desired something that made him happy that gave him a reason and he found that in his music. Skills over politics Chapter 2 was finally here. It was painful experience. I wrote the song and asked if Zii along with another female artist can sing it. I didn't want to sing on it at all. But when I brought it to his attention. He told me the only way he'll be apart of it is if I sing. I made the mistake by telling him I use to sing. From then he insisted I stop being afraid and express my self with the song. I still remember his words " the first thing is to never care about what people think, and don't let fear stop me from doing something that I deep down love to do. I didn't know wether to cry or smile. I agreed and every since that moment I found my voice. I was never the same when it came to that particular area in my life. Ive gain so much confidence just because one person decided to care. And I thank him everyday for that. He shared some of his experience with music and people doubting him and he was now getting booked to perform.

That conversation pushed me and inspired me so much. The song came out really good. And I couldn't of done it without him. We made plans to do so much and involve the youth of our community. From give sways to talent shows to report card grade give aways. But we never got around to it, I know it's never ever to late though. Zii is a good person a good friend and sooo funny and I can't wait until he is back home with his friends and his family and those he cares for dearly, Pursuing his music and bettering him self spiritually. Growing up in a poverished pattern based communities like ours isn't easy at all, the creator knows But we make the best of it and we push and push cause that's all we can do and Ziico Niico did just that and turned his negatives into positives along with inspiration and I can't wait until the day I get to see him and hug him. I Love you Zii and I'll see you Soon. Thank You.

Love, Crystal Diamond Smith

Dear Judge,

I am writing this letter in regards to Nico Burrell. I have known Nico for quite some time and have known him to be a noble stand up person. Whenever someone he knows is in need, he does his best to assist them in anyway. Countless times I couldn't find someone to help me with my disabled step-son and he has come to my rescue. There were times when my son had seizures and he was a phone call away, helping me monitor them and making decisions on whether or not to take him to the ER. He never once left our side. My son has taken such a liking to Nico. My son suffers from bipolar disorder and to take my son out of depression he gets in sometimes, a trip to the ice cream shop with Nico always makes his day. I could never repay him for all he has done for me and my family. I pray this letter finds you in good spirits.

Thank you,
Yashica Goulbourne

APPENDIX E

Dear Honorable Judge Nathan ,

Meeting people who genuinely care about you these days is very rare. The ones that don't like to see you upset and will find multiple ways to make you smile even if you don't want to. The ones that don't really want to allow you to make mistakes because they've made those mistakes already, they'd hate for you to deal with the consequences. At 21, I hit rock bottom. Ready to give up. I felt like I had run out of options. Waking up and going to sleep crying. I had got fired from my job, I was 1 step away from being homeless, and meals were harder to come by. Even worse, My family didn't live in New York so I felt more than alone at times. The only outlet I had was writing. I was so into music. I knew what I wanted and how I wanted it to sound but didn't have the support I always wanted. There were times I felt like my "outlet" was slowly fading away. I was so angry and mad at the world. I never handled situations the correct way. A couple months down the line I met this guy who noticed me sitting on the curb crying. For about an hour he just allowed me to cry and let everything out. We talked for hours about life, both good and bad. I didn't know this boy from a hole in the wall but you couldn't tell. We went from me talking about giving up to talking about music. He listened to something I had wrote and his reaction was priceless. Especially because he was starting his music career as well. "It's no way you could've possibly thought about giving up with a talent like that! That right there is what's going to get you out of here!" It was kind of weird because I was older than him, talking to him for a few hours I felt like I was being encouraged by my older brother. He was smart and so positive. He kept telling me bad days don't last forever, they just come once in a while to make you stronger. From that day on anytime something went wrong I would always smile . I knew what was coming next. Me and that guy never lost contact! We got even closer and now I call him my brother . He's the baby brother that knows how to calm me down , make me happy and annoy me all at once. He pushes me to do so much more and I always appreciated him for that. I grew to love music more than I did before mainly because I feel different when I write. I feel like "that right there is what's going to get me out of here". Positive thoughts always run through my mind and it all started from a few hours of tears and conversation. His heart is different. It's rare. He wants everyone around him to be just as loving as him. I can honestly say that Nico Burrell plays a big part in more than half of the things I've accomplished in the past few years and I pray that he will be here to continue to do exactly what he has been doing.

Dear Judge,

I am writing this letter on behalf of Nico Burrell. I met the defendant during a difficult time in my life. Just losing my job and a close family member; Nico and I became friends through a mutual friend. In my time of befriending him he has and still is helping me upon my promotional events and brand. Nico has helped with networking and building relationships with influential people. We all have our flaws but Nico Burrell has very few. The defendant's behavior towards me has been so kind and decent that these charges were a surprise and devastating us.

Nico's heart shows that he is truly genuine and cares deeply about everyone around him. During the times we spent together, whether it was in family or business events, I have noticed that he often puts other people first before himself and doesn't ask for much in return.

What I say about Nico is true, and therefore I would like to share a personal story; I was recently diagnosed with epilepsy. During my times to recover from three sporadic seizures Nico made sure that my promotional events were still as successful as they would've been if I were there. While I was in the hospital Nico picked up my slack and continued to keep my business and brand growing. If it wasn't for his help in my time of need and recovery I would of no longer have a brand.

I am writing this letter in the hopes that you could lower his conviction time based off what I just said and the person he truly is. Nico Burrell is someone that anyone could count on if they are in a need of a crisis. Please take this letter into consideration due to the personal story I just told and how much of a help he has been to me and to others.

Thank you
Walter Cobblah

Dear Judge Nathan,

Your Honor my name is Michelle jemison the mother of Nico Cardoshi Burrell. Nico is my second child and only son of four children. For this reason he is very protective of females in his family especially his grandmother. I had my kids at a very young age so me and my kids had an inseparable bond. I was they support system I was all they got. On march 4 2008 all that came to a end. I was deported leaving my kids in the care of my sickly mom and my 18 years old sister Kaela McLean. My kids was traumatised Nico 14years of age got in trouble went to jail for 6 1/2 years I was upset with universe why me why my family when Nico would call he assure me it was for the best god save him. I should watch I will see now upon Nico release he came home with books a lot of writing books that he wrote in thru out the years contain in them songs a lot of songs he wrote about his life then I saw his 1st performance I cried for days. Suddenly I understood what he mean when he said jail save him and I should wait an see Nico is not a bad kid. I failed Nico the system failed Nico. I know if Nico had a support system his life would have worked out differently.

I want to share with you about my son Nico. One day a lady/ miss Kissean Breswick wrote me on Facebook thanking me. I know no reason why she should. She went on by saying my son helped her out in a very big way. When I ask what he did she said her 13 year old daughter wasn't listening her being disrespectful cut classes and coming home extremely late. She was talking about it Nico heard her and ask if he can speak to her daughter Ms Solange Smith and she said yes. She then gave Nico her address and phone number. Nico call 2 days after n went to see her she went on by saying she left them in the room together. She dont know what Nico told her daughter but from that day until now her grades went up she's home on time and being respectful. She went on by saying even her teachers notice the changes she said Nico was a angel in disguise Your Honor. I say this to show you my son's character and your character is who you are. Nico is a gentleman , mannerable , respectful very loving and caring. You can't help but to love him. I love Nico and all his siblings and I know they love me too but Nico makes me feel love as my only son and he addresses and treats me with the heights of respect

I love my son Your Honor with every fibre in my body and am begging that if you see it fit please have some leniency on him and if its Gods will I know you will. As a mother I am asking you for leniency for mercy for my son. I beg of you only if Your Honor give him a chance to spend these last few days with his grandma .

I am thanking you in advance Your Honor for one of my many blessings. !
God bless you and your family cause a family is everything !

Respectfully,

Michelle Jemison

Dear Honorable Judge Nathan

Thank you for allowing me to present you with a character reference letter I am corresponding in a reference to Mr. Nico Burrell, who will be appearing in court. I've known Mr. Burrell for almost 10 years, during that time I've seen experience the good, the bad, the ups & downs as well as the struggles. Mr. Nico Burrell is the most generous people I know who has a heart of gold, who loves being around his family & friends. Mr. Nico Burrell is a good person who has a good moral, just needs more people to believe in him so that he can become an even better person. He is incredibly remorseful, is willing to do whatever it takes to make reparations, financially & emotionally if possible but to do that he needs you to give him an opportunity to have a second chance. I do understand that Mr. Burrell may have broke some laws but I also pray, hope that you will recognize the power you yield with regard to the future of this gentleman, make a fair decision. Thank you again for ya time & cooperation.

Sincerely
Ms MONAY Walker

Your Honor,

Being a sibling of Nico Burrell's I have learned the legal charges he has been faced with. I am voluntarily writing a character reference letter on his behalf. Growing up Nico he has always been the man of the house. He's grown into an upstanding man that is more than just my brother but he is my friend as well. He is very caring and has a huge impact on many people in our family and also the community with the obstacles he has overcome. He has dealt with many trials and tribulations growing up so much of who he is now was him teaching himself how to be a man. Nico is the rock in our family. He provides love when many times are dull. He provides for us all mentally, emotionally and financially and for that we will always appreciate him.

After the obstacles placed in front of him he always seemed to stay above and better himself after servicing several years in the criminal justice system. After serving time Nico has found himself a new passion and a new path to start over in his life. Falling in love with music and keep himself on a straight path. Behind his music are stories from pain and his life lessons. He has left a huge impact on the community and his music still lives on. He is a well rounded individual and has an impact on many children and also adults around him. His personality is one of a kind and so is his talent. He has remained genuine and humble throughout the success. Nico has/had one vision and that's to make it out of the Bronx and be heard by everyone around the world. He will continue to push forward given the opportunity to get back in the studio and chase his dreams. Nico Burrell is a one of kind man and I am positive that he will continue to stay on a positive path to be great in every aspect of his life.

Best regards,
Parris Tyrell.

Dear Judge,

On behalf of Nico Burrell you can rest assured considering his freedom. Nico has evolved tremendously for the better. His defective surroundings have suppressed him of reaching his maximum potential. His mistakes have distorted his character. When I speak to this young man he inspires and motivates me to be better and to do better. He is one who is passionate about his loved ones, his goals and his aspirations. He has acknowledged his error and is ready to conquer and neglect his misconduct with integrity. Nico is a positive person, he goes above and beyond to make sure the people around him are well. Nico works with me to make sure I'm mentally, emotionally and spiritually progressive. He only wants to see the people around him doing better. He's a phenomenal person at heart and he can make an astonishing difference if he receives the chance.

Sincerely,

Domonique Campbell

July 7, 2017

To the Honorable Judge

New York, NY

Your Honor,

I have learned of the legal problems that Nico Burrell has been charged with recently and I am voluntarily writing a character reference on his behalf. I have known him for over 15 years and consider him to be an upstanding man who I consider family more than a friend. He is a very caring person with genuine tendencies to help individuals and make positive impacts in his community. He has a large family which has dealt with a lot of trials and tribulations, from never having a father in his life to having his mom deported and being left in his grandmother's custody. Being raised with his grandmother as his only parental figure Nico had to teach himself a lot of things and became the man of his house at a very young age. After a few years of living with his grandmother she became very ill and has been battling illness ever since. Her sickness took a toll on him having to provide for his family financially, emotionally, and mentally.

Throughout all the obstacles placed in front of him he has worked to stay above and beyond but ended up in a bad situation and served several years in the criminal justice system. After serving his time he came home happy to be around his family, friends, and loved ones and focused on his music career. His music career started to get off the ground and he put his time into taking care of his grandmother and pursuing his music. He was dedicated to staying positive and making up for the time he missed with his loved ones. Despite all the negative things that occurred he always managed to turn the negative obstacles placed in front of him into positive outcomes. He remained dedicated, genuine, and loving to his family, friends, and the kids in the community who look up to him and relate to him through his music and fellowship. He is a very well-rounded individual whose presence makes a difference and is missed when he is not around. The impact he has on the people around him is always positive and uplifting and he is very loved.

-Deborah Burgos

Dear Judge,

I am writing this letter on behalf of Nico Burrell. My name is Jason Clarke, I am the owner of Season&Style Catering / Private dining experience company located in Bronx Ny & Phx Arizona. Before I met Nico, I knew of him thru prior relationship with his family and I must note he comes from a really good and caring family. I've personally known Nico for 3 years and he's a very humble guy, was always positive and just wanted to show case his talent . He is one of a kind, he brings so much energy, creativity, & pain to the stage...the entire audience gravitates to him as we understand how far he has come. He's a young guy with great intentions, all he spoke of was music and making a lead way to take care of his family who's always been there for him. And he was willing to work very hard and use all the resources in his reach as far as dj's, engineers, producers, party promoters, videographers etc. to get his brand across. He even asked me at one point to be his manager because of how far my reach was. I've seen him out work everybody and there were never problems in his eyes only solutions. His work ethic blew me out the water. I knew his work ethic along with his character this young man would achieve great things.

And once he started building his brand, he hasn't stopped and became more & more noticeable, it was hard not to mention his name where we are from. He really has a talent and power to change the minds of his generation thru music. Somebody this young with a huge impact as his deserves to be out in the world to show that there's hope of rising up from the conditions that young minorities are stuck in or struggling to get out. Everyone deserves a chance, I hope that this letter helps Nico and his present circumstances.

Jason Clark

Dear Honorable Judge Nathan,

I am writing this letter in representation of my loving family friend Nico Burrel, to express his good characteristics. Nico has been in my life for over 10 years and he has been a very influential part of my development as a person. I would say he was a brother to me, but I feel that he is so much more. Being around him brings people joy because of his personality and great advice on situations. He is very talented and creative. Nico has always had an attentiveness for the arts and he would write songs. Every time he felt unsure of how his song was coming along he would call me to ask if it was okay. Previous to his arrest he was making a great impact with his music and still continues to do so from behind bars. This year without Nico has been very hard for me. Judge Nathan, I hope I've explained why Nico's release is very important to me and why I really need him home.

Thank you for your time, May God bless you and your family.

Sincerely,
Myeeka James

Dear Judge Nathan,

My name is Crystal White and I would like to speak in regards of Nico Burrell. Nico Burrell is my cousin and I've known him his whole life, twenty-six years. For many years of his life he has been a huge inspiration to not only me and my family, but lots and lots of community members surprisingly throughout the world with his strong dedication to his music. Me personally being a part of the LGBT community proves this every day for the simple fact He's also inspired a lot of my fellow LGBT community members as well. Hearing his hit songs and witnessing individuals enjoy it word for word at special events and celebrations warms my heart. The conversations that I have had with him inspired me to take some time out to even start writing my own music. My friends love his music and we represent him everywhere we go.

Doing some time allowed Nico to take the time out and write even more. When Nico was released after the five years that he did all he knew was the studio and his microphone and where he was trying to head in life. When Nico learned that his music helped him in a positive way tremendously his focus became so much clear, nothing else mattered. I have confidence that Nico Burrell is not only a positive person but a leader and wants nothing but the best for people like me who inspire him. His goal is to do more and give back to the community with all his positive thoughts. His talent is very much so respected and I would love to hear more from him because I know he has so much more in store.

Sincerely,
Crystal S.White

To whom it may concern,

I am writing this letter on the behalf of Nico Burrell. I've known Nico for more than 8 years and I can truly say that man is one of the most genuine, understanding and caring person there is. Nico cared about nothing but his family. Nico was really a family man and believed that he was the one that had to make sure every last one of them were okay. Nico did 6 years and came home ready to take over the world with his voice. Nico's music inspired everyone but especially the younger generation. Nico encouraged kids to go to school and get great grades and if they did that he allowed them to be in a video with him and etc. Kids looked up to Nico not just as an artist but as a goal. Nico came home and changed his whole life around. He proved to people that just because you've made a mistake in life you can always learn from it and that he did. Nico has always been a great friend of mine. He's been there for me through my toughest times. If I wanted to describe Nico in one word I would use the word LOVE. Nico loved everyone. He was always so positive no matter the situation and he always kept that bright smile on his face. I've seen the growth in Nico and I believe Nico is a changed man and he definitely deserves a chance to show that. I do hope this letter gave you a better understanding as to who Nico Really is.

Sincerely,

Kadeshia Samuels

Dear Judge

Hey, how are you my name is Aisha Ndiaye I am a friend of Nico Burrell. Here what my friend is going through right now is very devastating. I personally know Mr. Burrell and his family very well, I mean you may as well call them my family. Nico has always been the caring, uplifting, loving, and kindhearted person. I mean from the first day I met him I gravitated towards him. His presence alone makes you love him. He's one of those individuals that make you want to do better to make a change in your life. He's one of those individuals that kids honestly look up to. The kids in our neighborhood adore him. He really is a public figure to kids throughout the Bronx for his personality and his music. They don't see him as the gangster the media made him look like. He is a good person.

Writing this letter I'm beginning to get chills because I know this young man was brought up in a very good home. And, he shows that in his everyday living. He is one of those friends where if your going through something you can go to him and expect him to give you the best advice ever. He's one of those friend that would give you a shoulder to cry on and maybe even cry with you. Nico is a family man. A man that will do any and everything to see his family smile. He puts his family before anything, especially his grandmother.

Judge Nathan I hope that you can see that this young man changed his whole life around. He made a change that influenced many others to change also. And for that he is well respected within his community, his family , and amongst his friends.

Sincerely,
Aisha Ndiaye

Dear Judge,

I'm writing this letter in regards to Nico Burrell. He's one of the most biggest loving caring person anybody could ask for. If you get to know him personally, I swear you'll get to love him as much as everybody does. He's a family man and he goes hard for the people he loves.

Nico was the type of person you didn't have to worry about anything. He made sure his family and close friends were always great. This was just his character. He is always the life of the party he wasn't worried about drama all he wanted was to make music, live his life and provide for his people.

One thing i love about that boy , is that you'll never know when he's in a dark space in his life. That man never showed when he was hurting and even after what he's been threw he remain strong for us. He is such a humble person with a big heart of gold. I just want him back home to continue his music and get his life on track. I know he will stay of trouble and make his friends and family proud.

Sincerely ,
Jahmego Gordon

To the honorable Judge Nathan,

The quality of mercy is not strain, it droppeth as the gentle rain from heaven upon the place beneath. It is twice blessed, it blessed those that give and those that take. It is the mightiest of the mightiest. It becomes the throne monarch, better than its crown. Its septers shows the force of temporal power. Therefore Judge, let justice be thy plead in this court. In this strict court, none of us will see salvation. We do pray for mercy and that same prayer does teach us all to render the deeds of mercy. I have spoken thus much to mitigate the justice of thy plea in this court today.

I am the grandmother of Nico Burrell. He was placed in my care from the separation of his parents. I raised Nico to be a very strong, intelligent young man. Nico is a very loving and caring person. When he wakes up in the morning he would always tell me "Good morning grandma" and kiss me on my forehead. He would take me to and from my appointments. Nico was at a very young age when he left me to go to prison, and my body started to break down. When he was released from prison, I started to gain back my confidence. My health improved tremendously, now it is getting worse again. I get admitted into the hospital 2-3 times a month, because I have congestive heart failure, asthma, high cholesterol, high blood pressure, diabetes, sleep apnea, I also must sleep on a bipap machine, I must use the asthma machine 3 times a day, and my left eye is almost blind. I also have kidney failure and will be starting dialysis very soon. Please judge do not take him away from me, let him spend some time with me. I don't know when the lord is going to call on me. Me and my family would like to move out of the state with Nico when he comes home, to make a better life for us all.

Sincerely, his loving grandmother.

M. McLean

To the Honorable Judge Nathan, my name is Dinah Leybot. I am Nico Burrell's girlfriend of almost two years now. I started dating him sometime in January. I met him January 12th 2016 at a friend's get together and ever since we were inseparable up until April 27th, 2016.

When I met Nico I had no idea who he was but all I knew was the moment I laid eyes on him I had to make him mine and the look in his eyes told me he felt the same. He has this smile that lights up a room, humor that makes it hard to dislike him, and a charm that made it hard for me to resist him. Before we even got involved I saw that he was very protecting and caring of the women that surrounded him. He would walk into the house give his sister huge kisses and hugs, layup with them, bother them in a playful way, and if they were going somewhere he would ask where and tell them to let him know if they got there safe, and would always make sure they had eaten. He enjoyed their presence and so did they, as well as everyone that was ever around him. He was the same way with me. He made me laugh until my cheeks hurt and my lips were trembling. Whenever I would leave my friend's house late at night he would ask me how I was getting home and if I was taking a cab, he made sure I got in the cab safely every time. Whenever we went out to his shows Nico kept his eyes on me to make sure nobody made me feel uncomfortable or disrespected me. It doesn't seem important, but it was for me. The day I finally decided to let him know that I was feeling him was the same day I had gotten a phone call from my family telling me my grandmother was very ill and might not make it. I was already on my way to my friend's house and it was too late to turn back. I was crying while walking from the train to her house but before I walked in I got myself together, so no one would notice I was crying. When I got there, I saw Nico and I had forgotten all about the phone call I had received about my grandmother because as soon as I saw him he had put a huge smile on my face. That whole night he had taken my mind off my grandmother and when I got home I sent him a message.

After that day, we started to get to know each other more, without anyone else being around. We called each other almost every day and was on the phone for hours when we weren't together. The nights that we were together was when I was the happiest. I was in a place in my life that made me very unhappy until I met him. I was stressed because of work, having to make ends meet, a sick mom, and worried about finishing my classes, but he took my mind off all of that. I would express to him my frustrations when we were together and instead of pretending to listen and care, he DID listen and care. He was there for me. The nights we spent together, he would wake me up and made sure I went to work. If I was too tired and didn't get up, he would get mad and tell me if I can't get up for work then I can't spend the nights with him anymore until I got it together. When I was overwhelmed with classes he would give me motivational speeches and push me to study and do better. He always asked how I did on my quizzes and exams. Nico cared about me since DAY ONE of me being in his presence. And ever since we got together he has pushed me to do better and be better and vice versa.

Getting closer to him meant that we were opening up to each other. He told me about the situation he was in. But I looked past all of that. I'm not the one to judge because I know what it's like to struggle. But I encouraged him to focus more on his music. The nights I spent with him I valued and cherished because I liked him so much. We slept on a couch squished up together in someone else's house, I even slept on top of him while on the couch one night. But that never mattered to me because all that mattered was that I was around some one that took all my worries away from me and cared for me at the same time.

I even slept on a blow-up bed with Nico too, a twin size one at that and shared a little tiny blanket that he would use to cover me mostly, just to make sure that I was comfortable. I didn't know I had love for him at the time, but if that isn't love than what is? I told him we could get a place of our own if it would make him feel better, but he said he would think about it which meant no. Nico is a very independent, get it on his own type of man. He wants no hand-outs even if it means sleeping on a blow-up bed in an empty room. And yes, I had my own bed I could've slept in, but I wanted to sleep with him so wherever he slept is where I slept too. In the time that we spent together I noticed he was very much into his music. If he wasn't with me or his family, he was at the studio making music. Music is his passion. Even being around him, he would sometimes, well most of the time put headphones on, lock himself in the room and write what comes to mind. He'll leave the room every now and then, to show what he got so far then go right back to blocking everybody out and resume doing what he does best. And every penny he had went towards studio time. When Nico was home his number one focus was his music and his family.

Three months went by and our connection had grown stronger I was falling for Nico, I had already fallen for him. I had dreams of us starting a life together and I still do. Nico treats me like a queen. He has never called me out my name or disrespected me, nor has he laid a hand on me. Since the day I met him, he has always treated me with respect. After all that he's been through, he is a man with respect and I respect him.

April 27th really opened my eyes, I was hurt to the core. The love of my life had been taken away from me and there was nothing I could do about it but stick by his side through everything. From April 27th to now our relationship has gotten so strong. We've been through A LOT, and we both have grown tremendously from it. Even though Nico is locked up he's been very supportive of the decisions I've made and helped me in so many ways. He's helped me in ways when even my mother couldn't help me. He's helped me learn to love myself and become a better woman, all that while loving me unconditionally. He truly brings out the best in me.

I love Nico Burrell with all my heart, and I would do anything to have him home with me again. I've never met a man with a heart like his. His heart is made of pure gold. You would think all that he has been through he would be an insensitive person, but that is not the case. Nico cannot help but do right by the people he loves the most and his loyalty runs deep. Anyone who knows Nico personally knows this. Anybody that crosses paths with Nico cannot help but to love him, his aura is so positive you can feel it when he walks in the room.

If I had to describe Nico in a couple of words, I would say he is loving, caring, passionate about what he loves and the people he loves, determined to make his dreams come true, respectful, and an intelligent man.

I pray every night for his homecoming. I pray that this will all be over with. It's not easy seeing the one you love experience this. I've had endless nights of crying myself to sleep wishing I could just lay with him again. My birthday is January 27th, one of my biggest wishes is to have him home for one of my most important birthdays. It sounds impossible, but with faith and God anything is possible. My plans for when he comes home is to get an apartment for the both of us in the city BEFORE he is released, after a couple of months to a year I'm hoping we can move out the state. I want to start living my life with the man I love. I want to start my career, buy a house, get married, have children with the man that I love.

Sincerely, Dinah Leybaot ♥
